

A HORSE CALLED MUSIC – 2 PAGES

INTRO – D-4

D-2      Bm-2      G-2      D-2
High on a mountain in western Montana
Bm-2      D-2      D-2      A-4
A silhouette moves across a cinnamon sky
D-2      Bm-2      G-2      D-2
Riding along on a horse he calls music
Bm-2      D-2      A-2      D-4
With a song on his lips, and a tear in his eye

D-2      Bm-2      G-2      D-2
He dreams of a time, and a lady that loved him
Bm-2      D-2      D-2      A-4
and how he would sing her sweet lullaby's
D-2      Bm-2      G-2      D-2
but we don't ever ask him, and he never talks about her
Bm-2      D-2      A-2      D-4
I guess it's just better that we all let it slide

G-4      D-4      G-4      D-4
And he sings Oooh to the ladies and Oooh he makes 'em sigh
D-2      Bm-2      G-2      D-2
Then he rides away on a horse he calls Music
Bm-2      D-2      A-2      D-4
With a pain in his heart, and a tear in his eye

Now he rode the Music from Boston to Bozeman
Bm-2      D-2      D-2      A-4
For not too much money, and way too much ride

D-2                      Bm-2                      G-2                      D-2
But those were the days when a horse he called Music
Bm-2                      D-2                      A-2                      D-4
Could jump through the moon and sail across the sky

D-2                      Bm-2                      G-2                      D-2
Now all that's left is a time worn old cowboy
Bm-2                      D-2                      D-2                      A-4
With only his dreams of the days long gone by
D-2                      Bm-2                      G-2                      D-2
And trailin' behind is a horse with no rider
Bm-2                      D-2                      A-2                      D-4
A horse he calls Memories that she used to ride

G-4                      D-4                      G-4                      D-4
And he sings Oooh to the ladies and Oooh he makes 'em sigh
D-2                      Bm-2                      G-2                      D-2
Then he rides away on a horse he calls Music
*Bm-2                      D-2                      A-2                      D-4
With a pain in his heart, and a tear in his eye

D-2                      Bm-2                      G-2                      D-2
High on a mountain in western Montana
Bm-2                      D-2                      D-2                      A-4
Two crosses cut through a cinnamon sky
D-2                      Bm-2                      G-2                      D-2
Marking the place where a horse he called Music
Bm-2                      D-2                      A-2                      D-4
Lays with a cowboy in the sweet by and by
